PRESS RELEASE

BNP PARIBAS REAL ESTATE ANNOUNCES A NEW GOVERNANCE STRUCTURE TO SUPPORT ITS DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY

Thierry Laroue-Pont has been appointed Executive Chairman and Jean-Maxime Jouis Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of BNP Paribas Real Estate

Amid significant change within the property sector, BNP Paribas Real Estate has announced updates to its governance and organisational structure, set to come into force from 1 March 2026.

Jean-Maxime Jouis has been appointed CEO of BNP Paribas Real Estate, working alongside Thierry Laroue-Pont, Executive Chairman.

Thierry Laroue-Pont will retain operational management of the Property Development, a key business line in BNP Paribas Real Estate's strategic roadmap.

Jean-Maxime Jouis will lead the strategic and operational management of BNP Paribas Real Estate, with a particular focus on the Advisory and Property Management business lines, which he has been managing since January 1st.

Three Deputy Chief Executive Officers complete this new executive management team:

- Molka Langar is joining BNP Paribas Real Estate as Deputy Chief Executive Officer of the company, in charge of Corporate Functions and the company's Transformation.
- Laurent Boucher retains his position as Deputy Chief Executive Officer of BNP Paribas Real Estate, in charge of the Advisory business line (Transaction, Consulting, Valuation).
- Csongor Csukas is now Deputy Chief Executive Officer of BNP Paribas Real Estate, in charge of Property Management.

This Executive Management team will carry out its duties in close coordination with the Board of Directors, which will include representatives from BNP Paribas' three major business lines.

Thierry Laroue-Pont says: "This new governance is tasked with ensuring the implementation and success of BNP Paribas Real Estate's new strategic and transformation plan. With these experienced and respected managers, supported by the BNP Paribas Group, with whom we are eager to further develop our synergies, BNP Paribas Real Estate is strengthening itself to achieve the ambitious objectives we have set for 2030. I am convinced that we are on the right track!"

BIOGRAPHIES:

Thierry Laroue-Pont is the Executive Chairman of BNP Paribas Real Estate and the CEO of BNP Paribas Real Estate Property Development.

After starting his career at Jones Lang LaSalle (JLL) in 1987, Thierry Laroue-Pont joined BNP Paribas Real Estate in 2004. He went on to become Head of the Ile-de-France office division, then vice-chairman and then chairman of BNP Paribas Real Estate Advisory France. In 2012, he was appointed Deputy General Manager of BNP Paribas Real Estate in charge of Advisory (Transactions, Consulting and Valuation) before becoming CEO of BNP Paribas Real Estate in 2014.

Since October 2024, Thierry Laroue-Pont has also been the CEO of the Property Development business line.

Thierry Laroue-Pont is a graduate of the Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Lyon and has a master's degree in law and a postgraduate degree in international law.

Jean-Maxime Jouis is the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of BNP Paribas Real Estate, responsible for the strategic and operational leadership of the company and for supervision of the Advisory and Property Management business lines. Jean-Maxime Jouis has spent his career at BNP Paribas Real Estate. He joined BNP Paribas REIM France in 2007 when it was a subsidiary of BNP Paribas Real Estate. There, he worked successively as Asset Manager, Fund Manager, Head of Fund Management, Global Head of Fund Management & Private Investors, and member of the Management Board of BNP Paribas REIM France.

In 2022, Jean-Maxime Jouis became Chairman of the Management Board of BNP Paribas REIM France, then, in July 2023, Global Head of Investment Management until its transfer to BNP Paribas Asset Management on 1 January 2026.
